Grantee Communications Kit

Communication is Key

Congratulations on Your Award.

Your grant from the Community Foundation of Middlesex County (CFMC) reflects your hard work and dedication, and the news should be shared with your community. The online and downloadable Grantee Communications Kit provides guidance on the best ways to broadcast your achievements and outlines the Community Foundation's expectations about spreading the word about your grant project.

The Community Foundation works with committed individuals, businesses and funding partners from throughout Middlesex County. Our donors believe in the good work we do and the good work you do. Acknowledging their commitment and generosity is one way you can thank them for their continued support; bring attention to the essential services and programs you provide to our community; and help the Community Foundation show that Philanthropy Matters, Philanthropy Works. Publicity and media coverage will help to ensure the continued success of your funded project/program, your organization, and the Community Foundation.

We encourage you to think of CFMC as a partner in publicizing your grant and your work. Keep us in the loop as your project/program moves forward. We would like to know if you produce a publication, create a website, or hold an event as part of your grant activities. By being informed about our grantees, the Community Foundation is then able to highlight your organization on our website, in our mailings, collateral, and e-news, and elsewhere to help you spread the word about your grant and your organization. With every publication or event, the donors are thanked over and over again. It demonstrates that you care and that you appreciate their generous ways. "Publicity" is one key expected outcome and "Thank You" of receiving a grant.

We encourage you to subscribe, if you have not already done so, to our e-news platform; you can do so by updating your profile in our constant contact database if you have subscribed to the nonprofit organization e-list. If you do not receive these e-announcements, you can subscribe to our e-lists on our website or by e-mailing your information to Info@MiddlesexCountyCF.org.

Guidelines for CFMC Acknowledgement

The Community Foundation of Middlesex County (CFMC) appreciates public acknowledgement of the activities it supports. Our logo and tag line should be used in acknowledging our support and is available on our website or by e-mailing the Community Foundation. The guidelines for crediting CFMC are described below. Newspaper articles, op-ed pieces, radio interviews, social media, and other media activities as well as video/photo “thank you” are some of the possible publicity opportunities to extend the impact of your effort. We appreciate mention of our support in all media activities related to your award.

Publicity Campaigns

Please notify the Community Foundation of Middlesex County of media and outreach efforts involving activities supported by our awards. If you have any questions, please contact our office to discuss proper acknowledgement of funding. We are always happy to receive samples and copies of publications, advertisements, press kits, and press releases created as part of this outreach.

Some ways you can publicize your grant award:

- Announcements through local papers and internet news sites when you receive your award letter;
- Announcements on your Facebook page, Twitter feed and other social media outlets;
- Invite CFMC to join you, your board of directors, staff, donors, and program participants for a check presentation photo which can be used for media announcements, social media, and newsletters;
- Provide stories, photos, and videos to CFMC for use on our website, newsletters, and other publicity;
- Link YouTube videos posted on your YouTube channel to CFMC’s YouTube channel and send video links to CFMC to be loaded on the Video page on our website;

- “Follow” CFMC on twitter - @CFMC_CT and share story/announcement links to be retweeted; and
- Embed the Community Foundation’s logo on your website with a link to our website.

Use of the CFMC Logo

CFMC logos are available on our website or by contacting us. The logo may be used in a variety of ways: on websites, multimedia materials, annual reports, newsletters, posters, news releases and press kits, educational materials, signage, banners, and other materials related to your award.

The Community Foundation name was legally changed in 2012 and a new logo was launched. If our previous name and logo were used on your website and in collateral materials, we ask that you update those materials.

The new logo is:

- The full logo includes the circular symbol with the acronym, the name of the foundation, and the tag line “Philanthropy Leadership Legacy.”
 - The standard logo includes all three of these aspects and should be used in most publicity. The logo should be legible and no smaller than 1.5” in height.
- When the logo will be 1.5” high or less, the logo may be used without the tag line, “Philanthropy Leadership Legacy,” or when the tag line will be indistinct. In such cases, you should contact the Community Foundation for the appropriate logo for this use.
- The logo cannot be separated into its separate parts (acronym circle, foundation name, and tag line) without pre-approval of use and separation by the Community Foundation.
- If changing the size of the logo, all elements should be enlarged or reduced in exact proportions. Never make the symbol bigger or smaller in relation to the typography, or the type bigger or smaller in relation to the symbol.

The Community Foundation Name

When referring to the Community Foundation in articles and announcements, the full name - Community Foundation of Middlesex County - should always be used first.

- After the full name is used, you may refer in following references to “the Community Foundation.”

- You may use the acronym – CFMC - in following references if it is designated in parentheses with the full name of the Community Foundation in the introductory sentence.
- You are asked to not refer to the Community Foundation as simply “the Foundation” as this can cause confusion with other private and public funding agencies.

Sample Tag Line(s)

The following acknowledgement may be used with or without the logo:

- WEBSITES: Acknowledge us on your website, preferably with our logo and embed a link to our website.

Submitting Photos

We encourage you to submit images of the community’s involvement with your organization, the project/program funded by your award, and/or programs/projects made possible because of capacity building funding.

Individuals appearing in photos should provide your organization and the Community Foundation permission to have their image used in publicity. We ask that you have individuals sign a photo release form. If you do not have a standard release form, the Community Foundation can provide a basic template. This form may be found on our website or by e-mailing the Community Foundation. Forms may be sent to the Community Foundation or maintained by your organization. If the latter, please state in writing when submitting photos that you have releases on file. When appropriate, names and affiliations of individuals in images should be submitted with the photo. If children are in the photo, CFMC will only use the child’s first name in captions, unless your organization directs otherwise.

Video Shorts

Organizations receiving grant awards may submit a video “thank you” or program highlight about the grant award and its impact in our community. A short thank you video showcasing how the grant you received impacts the community and individuals you serve will be uploaded to the Community Foundation's YouTube channel and shared on the Video page on our website, through social media, and through direct email correspondence with our donors and friends. Periodically the Community Foundation will feature these videos in our e-newsletters as well. Individuals appearing in videos should sign and submit a video release form. This form may be found on our website or by e-mailing the Community Foundation. When appropriate, names and affiliations of individuals in video should be submitted with the video. Please include links to websites and/or resources associated with the program and your organization. Videos should be submitted through a cloud-based, content-sharing platform by e-mail to Thayer Talbott at Thayer@MiddlesexCountyCF.org. If the video is loaded directly to your organization's YouTube channel, please send the share link via email. The Community Foundation reserves the right to edit submissions for length and content where necessary.

Grantee Stories

Organizations receiving grant awards should submit stories about the grant award and its impact in our community. Periodically the Community Foundation will feature these stories in our e-news, collateral materials, and on our website. Stories should include photos and links to websites and/or resources associated with the program and your organization. Stories should be submitted by e-mail to Thayer Talbott at Thayer@MiddlesexCountyCF.org. The Community Foundation reserves the right to edit the story for length and content where necessary.

Social Media

The Community Foundation has established a Facebook page for CFMC. The page can be found at www.facebook.com/CommunityFoundationMC. Please like our page. We have "liked" organizations from this page to better promote the great things your organization is doing. If you do not see our "like," please notify Thayer Talbott, and we will be happy to do so. Organization pages are monitored by the Community Foundation as time allows and announcements and stories are shared as often as possible. When posting to social media, please tag the Community Foundation to better help us see your posts and share them with the community. Please help promote your fellow nonprofits and CFMC by sharing our posts on your page.

Press Releases:

Quick Tips for Writing a Press Release:

- Press releases should be written in pyramid style, with the most important information at the top;
- Press releases should be issued before and after your program's events;
- Programs which may last a few weeks to a few months (or longer), invite a media representative to visit during the program and provide a mid-program release with details to date, including impact and quotes from participants.
- Press releases should include quotes from Executive Director, program participants, etc.;
- Paragraphs are to be double-spaced, proofread, and not indented;
- Press releases should be pasted in the body of an e-mail when sent to media agencies and individuals.

Inform Your Local Legislative Representatives

Providing informational letters to state and federal representatives are best kept at one page. Within that professional limit, discuss specific details about your funded project and your nonprofit organization. Include copies of promotional materials such as news clippings that you feel will assist the recipient in better understanding your work funded by the Community Foundation.

A Sample Letter to Representatives is attached at the end of this guide.
